

DAY THREE

Janet Nunn – Painting the Mountain

Duration of Class: One Day (6 Hours)

Medium: Liquid Watercolor

Skill Level: All

Description: Painting the Mountains with snow and a storm is an easy thing to paint. Using a few interesting techniques, like “Spit Wad” Clouds, and a basting brush for the mountains. The clouds create the drama, and the basting brush helps to paint the thousands of trees on the mountain. After painting this mountain scene, we will tackle a smaller one to apply the lessons learned in the first lesson. Bring your brushes and the rest of the supplies are provided.

Techniques:

Use of Dr. Ph. Martin’s Hydrus Watercolor

“Spit Wad Clouds”

Painting with a basting brush

Student Supply List:

Brushes (if you have them!) A round #12 is perfect. Everything else is provided!

Provided by Instructor:

- 300 lb Fabriano Artistic paper
- Dr. Ph. Martin’s Hydrus Watercolors
- Various tools needed to create the lesson

Class Size:

Min # of students: 4

Max # of students: 20